

Ciao! My name is Matteo, and I recently moved to DC. I traveled from Italy to Chicago and then Capitol Hill with my pride of fat cats, Panze' & Cherie. I always loved pets, and since my dad brought home our first cat, Zara, I became fluent in cattish and I was no longer able to live without cats around me. When I walk along the streets I am like a magnet for dogs, despite not having treats on me! You can sometimes catch me around the neighborhood with my friends' dogs Luna and Lobo. I have been taking care of family and friends' dogs, cats, turtles, fish, rabbits, and plants for many years, and I know how important it is to have someone reliable to leave them with. In Italy I worked as a nurse for over 12 years and I like to spend time outside taking long walks, runs and bike rides. See you out there!
